

Chris and Christina have served in various ministries since 2007, using their creativity and passion to disciple young people. They specialize in leading community outreaches, camps, and writing scripts/stories/curriculum that address the cultural climate today's kids are facing.

They attended Christ For the Nations Institute in Dallas, TX where they served Kids For the Nations summer camps for multiple years. They also led a preteen ministry at CFNI.

Their main focus is building God's kingdom now, in whatever way He wants that to happen.

Chris and Christina have an adult son and they plan to foster kids/youth in the future.
